→ Spotting vowels is a great strategy, especially for dyslexics.

Look at these words from the 2019 SAT spelling test: excellent, division, deceive. Noticing the vowels could help with the spelling of these: excellent, division, deeceive.

This is just one of many useful spelling strategies to help you. If you love it, or find it helpful, then please use it. You can use it in combination with the other strategies we're going to look at.

Use colours to highlight the vowels. Look at these key words:

remember, recent, sentence, therefore, extreme, centre believe, experience, experiment, exercise, complete, different grammar, calendar, natural, separate, interest decide, describe, medicine opposite, position, potato/potatoes difficult

→ Do some word art for these words and use colours for the vowels.

→ Sometimes, the meaning of a word can give us a clue to the vowel letter patterns:

beech or beach?

A beech is a tree. / A beach is by the sea.

→ Use memory tricks for difficult vowel patterns:

because — Because you need to always understand.

build — You and I build a house.

believe — Do you believe I exist?

thought — I thought of you.

Colour in the tricky vowels:

bec__ __se

b__ __ld

bel__ __ve

th__ __ght

Exercise

2. Rewrite them again using different colours for the different vowels.
3. Get your friend or parent to give you a spelling test with these. Or record them and test yourself.
